Upcoming Programs in Guatemala & Tanzania

CureCervicalCancer will be returning to northern Guatemala at the end of May, where we currently have FIVE fully sustainable cervical cancer prevention clinics. The team will bring the "See and Treat" program to the resource-poor Alta Verapaz region and the women of local communities near the city of Cobán.

The team will also be collaborating with UC Irvine School of Medicine and extending our "See and Treat" program into 3 clinics in Mwanza, Tanzania from June 4 to June 10!

The Los Angeles Ultimate Women's Expo will be holding its biannual event at the Los Angeles Convention Center on May 21 & 22.

The expo showcases hundreds of services and innovations, and CureCervicalCancer is excited to share our work with the over 26,000 women expected to be in attendance! Our nurse, Caitlin Cawley, will be presenting on Saturday, May 21 at 3 PM.

Come visit our booth, attend the presentation, interact, and join us in our mission to save lives!

Support A Worthy Cause!

Cervical cancer is a preventable disease. Many women in the developing world have little or no access to PAP smears, and CureCervicalCancer is dedicated to bringing the low-cost, effective "See and Treat" method for detecting precancerous cervical lesions to these women.

This simple method spares women from dying from locally advanced and metastatic cervical cancer, a process fraught with great pain, often slow and bloody. No woman need die from this preventable disease.
