Dear friends and supporters of CureCervicalCancer,

As CureCervicalCancer is approaching its first year anniversary, we would like to take a moment to recap a few of our accomplishments:

- CCC has passed the initial threshold challenges that confront and often defeat new non-profits.
- CCC has established eight permanent, sustainable "See and Treat" cervical cancer clinics across the globe.
- CCC has screened over 2,500 women and treated over 400 for pre-cancerous lesions.
- CCC has trained nearly 100 local healthcare professionals. We have also provided them the state-of-the-art equipment that has enabled them to provide ongoing treatment to the women of their local communities.
- CCC has established partnerships with International Medical Corps, Columbia University Millennium Cities Initiative, Haiti Outreach Pwoje Espwa (H.O.P.E.), Asociación Compañero Para Cirugía, and Africa Mission Services of USA.

- CCC finished in 2nd place among 293 nonprofit organizations in GlobalGiving.org's Winter Open Challenge. Not only did we raise over $30,000 and enlist over 150 new donors, CCC has qualified for the ongoing endorsement from this nationally recognized philanthropy. There is still time to give! (www.goto.gg/15438)

- CCC was awarded a major grant from the Joseph Drown Foundation. This represents a critical endorsement from a highly respected national funder.

- CCC has begun to amass a significant database that will be the basis of an important epidemiological study that will advance our understanding of the trends and treatment of the epidemic of cervical cancer in impoverished nations.

CCC has had an incredibly successful year! We are so grateful for your support in making all of this possible. All the women around the world that we have diagnosed and treated and the medical professionals we have trained are an ongoing testament to the effectiveness of our missions. Thank you for caring about the lives of women in the developing world. We urge you to go to our blog (www.curecervicalcancer.org/blog) to read more about our activities and some stories of the women touched by YOUR generosity.

CCC has two upcoming medical missions. The first is in Kisumu and Nairobi, Kenya (scheduled for April 2014) and the second is in Quang Ninh, Vietnam (scheduled for May 2014).

In the fall, CCC will return to Kenya where we have been invited by International Medical Corps to implement "See and Treat" programs within their established women's clinics countrywide.

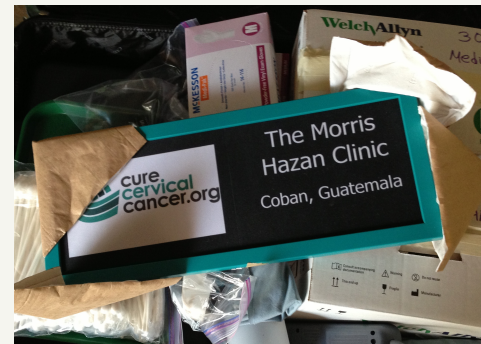

We welcome and encourage your continued support! Please donate at www.curecervicalcancer.org/donate.

With our deepest gratitude,

Patricia Gordon MD and the CureCervicalCancer Team
